“On a Wing and a Prayer”

By Rev. Kathy Harrington-Taber

As we journey between Ash Wednesday and Easter, I always consider my prayer life. As a young man told me today, “I talk to Jesus by praying.”

Prayer is so basic that a five year old understands it. I was blessed that he did not ask me any technical questions such as “How does prayer travel to God? Do prayers have invisible wings?” Prayer is so complicated that people argue about how best to pray and how to listen while praying. Prayer is deeply personal, yet in worship corporate prayer is important as it brings us together.

Ministering in Christian Education, I frequently contemplate prayer and how to teach it. Perhaps it would be better to say “how to model it” or “how to share it”. I long to be close to God, so how could that be shared with a 3 year old or a 14 year old so they learn to pray? Or how do we teach children to praise God in prayer? There are as many valid ways of praying as there is to communicate. New prayer techniques can be fascinating to discover. Even if someone has a wonderful prayer life already, trying a different method of prayer can open doors to new understandings of one’s self. If the new technique does not work, it is simple enough to return to what is effective.

There are times when it is important to know how not to pray. Once when our son was very ill, his aunt suggested taking him to a prayer service at our church. Our pastor refused. If there was not an immediate, positive result, he felt that it would damage the faith of our eight year old. He was right. Our child already knew he was a beloved member of a congregation that prayed for him. Services of healing and prayers of healing are certainly appropriate, but it is important to understand that “healing” does not necessarily mean “cure” and our child would not have understood the difference. Our child did improve, but not overnight. Remember that God’s solutions can take four hundred years to get the Hebrew slaves out of Egypt. The miracle of the Exodus is in no way diminished by the time frame of the event.

At times prayer can be manipulative, which I believe is harmful. Family prayer time should not be an opportunity to criticize another. While there are a number of wonderful books on prayer, there are others which are hurtful. My grandmother had me read one by Oral Roberts that claimed if a devout, praying Christian gave a some money away—say to Oral Roberts’ ministry—God would have to return the blessing ten-fold in short order. My pastor quickly confirmed my distaste as an appropriate reaction to “snake oil theology”. God is not a mighty fulfiller of greedy wishes. God is not a magician who can remove the consequences of one’s actions. There are abusive churches that teach that if one prays correctly hard enough and often enough, God has to fulfill the prayer. Unanswered prayer or incorrectly answered prayer is therefore the fault of the petitioner. Such teachings diminish God to a machine—a creation instead of the Creator.

The film Bruce Almighty is an interesting reflection on prayer. The character Bruce had much to learn about the nature of prayer and about what he truly needed from God. Like Job, he learned that some questions do not have answers that we can comprehend. Some prayers, while heartfelt, are best left unanswered. When he gave positive answers to the prayers of New Yorkers near where he lived, there was rioting as multiple people won the big lottery.

Sunday School News—We would like to thank Gerry and Jane Kennedy and Bev Kruempel for giving our Elementary Students a report about their recent Volunteers in Mission trip to the Philippines. Their visit enhanced our “Loving My Neighbor” curriculum that also studied the Great Commandment and the story of the Good Samaritan. The children loved the pictures, hearing about the people, and seeing the cultural items and currency. The children decided to collect used eye glasses to send with next winter’s mission team to the Philippines. (The VIM program knows an eye doctor there who can distribute the glasses.) There will be a box for gently used eyeglasses in the Main Office. Glasses can be sized for children or adults. Bifocals and trifocals can be used.

In April, our Elementary—High School students will be studying “24 Hours that Changed the World”- using age appropriate materials. (In the United Methodist Church, we do not think young children should be exposed to the violent elements of Good Friday.) The Two Year Old and Preschool Classes will also be studying about Holy Week and Easter. Our Labyrinth will be set up for a week during Lent. Please watch for details.

We do have Sunday School for all ages on Easter morning.

Youth Happenings—Brian Housholder will be moving to Minneapolis, soon. When you see him, make sure that you thank him for his work with our youth over the last five years. He will be greatly missed.

March 27th is our final Spud Lunch for this school year. We need extra donations for this lunch—please speak to Kathy Harrington-Taber or e-mail her at kathy@cwames.org if you can help. The Spud Lunch is free, but we will be accepting donations for our Mission Trip to Fort Hall, Idaho in July. Packets have been mailed out to mission trip participants. Please contact Kathy Harrington-Taber if yours has not arrived yet. The Senior High Youth will need drivers on 3/28—4/30 as we enjoy laser tag, a “Bigger and Better” scavenger hunt, and visiting retirees. We are also hoping to borrow a truck for April 6th. Please contact Kathy Harrington-Taber if you can drive.

Our Middle Schoolers served dinner at Soup Supper on March 9th. Thank you to everyone who helped! Our Senior High youth cleaned up so the Middle Schoolers and the regular kitchen crew could attend the Ash Wednesday Service.

March 30th, April 6th, and April 13th, our Middle School Youth will be able to choose between learning about improvisation with Mike King or learning to knit scarves, slippers, or mochimochi (strange Japanese critters) with Kathy Harrington-Taber. We will need extra adults these weeks. Please let Kathy know if you can help. Our Middle School Mission Trip will be to Minneapolis area June 22nd to June 25th. Registration is due March 30th. Forms are available at the church website or from Kathy Harrington-Taber.

“Raise the Roof Q & A”

By Rev. Scott Grotewold

As information begins to be shared about the “Raise the Roof!” campaign through mailings, articles, and word-of-mouth, some people have asked me some clarifying questions. Aware that others may be asking the same things—spoken aloud or just in their heads—let me take the space here to respond to some of what’s been asked.

Didn’t we just replace the roof a few years ago?

Like they say, “Time passes when you’re having fun!”

Believe it or not, it’s been twenty-six years since the shingles on the sanctuary roof were replaced. The education unit had its shingles replaced only a year or two later. David Stout was senior pastor; Ronald Reagan was president.

The pitched roofs have now all reached their 25-year life expectancies. This time around, we’re planning on installing steel shingles (though they won’t look like steel) that have a fifty-year warranty.

The last time roof work was done, it was decided not to go to the additional expense of putting insulation under the roofing materials. This time, we think it will be worth the money and help to keep heating bills down—or at least keep them from literally going through the roof.

It seems to me like we have an on-going capital campaign.

To me, capital campaigns are a very mixed blessing. I like the money I have; I don’t like the idea of having any less. I also know that it is good for me spiritually to always be stretching myself to be giving to the work of God’s realm.

That said, in the last twelve years, we’ve had two capital campaigns: “Together We Grow” in 1999, and “Venture in Faith” in 2006. This will be our third campaign in thirteen years.

True, each of these campaigns have had a multi-year giving phase, so if you (like the Grotewolds) made your payments over all the years of the giving phases, you’ve been making payments for seven of those twelve years.

Here’s a statistic I find interesting: For our most recent campaign (“Venture in Faith,” which had a four-year giving phase, if you include the “Add One Year” option, which allowed us the terrace and the complete remodel of the 1956 building among other things) 19.43% of those households who completed their commitments to the campaign, paid those commitments off within 6 months, the end of 2006. An additional 12% paid them off by the end of 2007; 33.14% more by the end of 2008; and 35.43 %more by the end of 2009. That means that 64.5% of households have made payments to a campaign for 5 years of the last 12 or fewer.

Wasn't the roof replacement a part of the "Add One Year" campaign add-on in 2007?

It was. We had raised over $2 million in the "Venture in Faith" campaign in 2006, but it wasn't quite enough to include a list of about eight components that would really add value to the project. Though an important priority, the roof was last on the list to be funded because it didn't have to be done at the time of the building construction. Alas, the additional funding neither was pledged nor fully came in—leaving us not only with no re-roofing, but a $100,000 debt on the building project. This time around, we will pay off the debt and not expend money we aren't sure will come in.

I remember fund-raising companies helping us during the last campaigns. Are we doing that this time?

RSI and Cargill were helpful in 1999 and 2006. In return for their services, we paid about $50,000 per campaign to them. We don't have the years of expertise they do, but we've been around this block a couple of times and see that the money we'll save by doing the "Raise the Roof!" campaign in-house will pay for one of the lesser projects.

Of course, that's only one side of the equation. The other side is that we're trusting our congregation's members and friends to say, "Oh, yeah. I know what this campaign stuff is like." To appreciate the effort to be good stewards—and then take it just as seriously as when a big-time corporation helps out.

On a closing note, I'm really excited that Kevin Gowdy will be able to be with us at our one-hour congregational information meetings on April 12 and 17, to be held at 7:00 p.m. in Wesley Hall. Kevin is the Executive Director of the Iowa United Methodist Foundation and has a lot of experience in financial campaigns and helping churches in their building needs. That night, he'll be giving a 15-20 minute presentation on the creative ways people might give in order for us to achieve our goal—ways that might be possible for some of us that wouldn't mean an additional monthly payment out of our pension or pay checks. You'll also have the chance to ask CUMC/WF laypersons working on each of the projects about the details and make your suggestions.

And have a bit of dessert! I hope I'll see you there!

Lunch on the Landing

The purpose of Lunch on the Landing is to increase interaction between students and the congregation and provide a time of fellowship. Lunch on the Landing takes place on Sundays after the 11 a.m. church service (starting close to noon) during the school year in the Student Lounge. We are in need of people that are willing to help with this ministry. All you need to do is provide a loaf of bread or two and some sandwich meat (we will have everything else that is needed at the church including salads, desserts, and beverages). If you would like to, you may bring some veggies (that is optional), set it up on Sunday, and most importantly, join us for lunch.

We are in need of assistance on the following dates:

April 3, April 10, April 17, April 24, May 1

Contact Lisa at lisa@cwames.org or 515-292-6936 if you are able to help with this ministry.

For the Bible Tells Me So

Rainbow Vision of CUMC invites you to view the film For the Bible Tells Me So at 6:30 pm on Tuesday April 12 in the Annex. After the film, Mary Lou Wallner, a mother featured in the film, will share her experience & answer questions. The event is sponsored by Ames PFLAG-Parents, Friends & Families of Lesbians & Gays.

Facebook Competition

When we reach 150 followers on our church facebook page (www.facebook.com/cwames) I will take one of the new followers and the person that invited them out to The Cafe for lunch. If you haven't followed the facebook page yet, do so by going to www.facebook.com/cwames and clicking the "Like" button on the top of the page. If you are already following, go to our page www.facebook.com/cwames and click the link labeled "Suggest to Friends." Thanks! Wil Ranney, Director of Discipleship

Stock Sales

The Senior High youth will be traveling to Fort Hall, Idaho this summer to repair homes through the Sierra Service Project. Please consider purchasing "stock" to help finance their trip. Youth will be selling stock at the west end of the gathering space, between church services, on April 3rd, 10th, and 17th.

Spring Handbell Concert

The five handbell choirs of C/W will present an hour-long concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, April 3, in the church sanctuary. Musical selections will include familiar melodies such as Leroy Anderson's "Plink, Plank, Plunk" and Khachaturian's "Sabre Dance", and original compositions for handbells.

Handbells have been part of the music ministry at Collegiate/Wesley since the early 1960's. Currently, the handbell program involves more than 50 ringers, including sixth-graders through senior citizens.

Admission to the concert is free. Donations will be accepted at the exits.

Hits the Road

Jason Janssen

During the last several years, it has become tradition for the faithspring band to hit the road. Over the years, we have visited congregations around Iowa and Hampton UMC in Hampton, IL. On March 5 and 6, the band visited Alta Church of Christ in Alta, IA.

The trips are always a good time for all!! We get all of our gear loaded on Gus and we are off. Most of the time during the trip, one or more guitars come out, and we have live music while traveling down the road. Upon arrival, it is usually a quick set-up and then a rehearsal to get ready for the evening event.

This year, we offered a service of music and scripture. The goal was to offer scripture that matched up with songs that are band favorites. Prior to the trip, a collection of favorites gets made. From that list, I put together a song order and then worked to select scriptures and a few anecdotes to weave the evening together.

After the Saturday evening event, we hunkered down for the night at the Frye household (my Mom and Step-Dad). After too many hours of tall tales and lots of laughter, all were bedded down. Sunday morning we were back to the church to assist in leadership of their Sunday morning service.

After church, it was off to Ames again to get unloaded, and get set-up to help lead faithspring upon our return. We were a very tired, but very happy group when we got back.

As a group, we enjoy sharing the word of God through song. Once again, we have been blessed by a very gracious and generous group in the COC congregation. A great time was had by all!!

Group members are: Mat Wymore, Mark Sanfilippo, Aaron Hewitt, Julia Lihs, Carli Johnson-Scott, Jonathan Brand, Eric State and Jason Janssen.

Short-term ministry opportunity:

Marketing Team

If you're adept at communicating a clear message through print or digital media, then please consider this short-term way to serve your church. We're putting together a task team to work on a long-range marketing strategy and need individuals with skills in writing, advertising, graphic design, marketing, web design, or other related tasks. We'll complete our assigned task in just 3 meetings, so you won't be making a long-term commitment.

To learn more or to volunteer, contact Tim Gossett, timgossett@mac.com.

Prayers

Thank you for sharing your prayers of joy and concern on the blue prayer cards each Sunday. Here are some joys and concerns you shared with us since the last issue of The Communicator.

Prayers of Thanksgiving

For the birth and good health of Mylie Marie Smith, daughter of Kari & Brandon Smith, Myah & Maysen, members of the church. Mylie was born on Tuesday, 3/8.

For the countless unheralded acts of kindness for caregivers who nurture and support those around them.

Prayers of Concern

For Mary, daughter of Mary Jane and Thamon Hazen, who was hospitalized in Spencer last week.

For healing and comfort and strength for the millions of people affected by the strong earthquake and tsunami.

For Marty & Jorgen Rasmussen on the death of their daughter Terri.

For peaces and clarity of mind for Allyson Prater Ellis as she had her ordination interviews last week.

For Dorothy Schwieder as she faces an unexpected diagnosis of non-hodgkins Lymphoma. She has already successfully completed one round of chemotherapy and expects 5-7 more. Her prognosis is very promising.

Left—Wesley Hall Jazz Ensemble plays for Fat Sunday on March 6.

Jane Jacobson reads liturgy during the March 20 service

Amanda Heeren leads the Children's Time on March 20.
